Vote Yes On 4 ... A Good Investment

IN THE VALLEY OF THE MOON

Well. . . Well. . . Well. . . California voters have only to approve the "good investment" which is Proposition 4 and see to it that inevitable port modernization is self-liquidating and not a burden on the wallets. . .

If there is doubt in anyone's mind about the advisability of approving a $60 million bond issue for improvement of the State's harbors and construction of small boat facilities along the coastal and inland waters, let them take reassurance from the man who should know best of all . . . A. Ronald Button, State Treasurer. . .

Mr. Button says, "The $60 million harbor bond issue . . . Proposition 4 on the November ballot . . . will be a good investment". . .

Mr. Button raises one very significant point that no taxpayer should overlook. . . No matter what happens, California, he says, is not going to let its own port deteriorate to the point where we will lose our invaluable shipping trade . . . a prospect that is not far off. . . But if Proposition 4 does not pass, and the State is deprived of that opportuity of raising the necessary port funds by issuance of self-liquidating bonds, then "the Legislature will be asked to appropriate money for (the port's) critical rehabilitation requirements". . . That, of course, means more taxes. . .
